BROKERS SEEKING RELIEF

They Want the Stamp Tax on Their Memoranda Abolished.

Representatives of the New York Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange Before the House Committee on Ways and Means-The Burden Declared to Be Excessive.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House met yesterday and gave a hearing to C. G. Wilson, E. DeAguero, C. C. Jacobus, and M. H. Wagar, in behalf of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange of New York, to urge the abolttion of the stamp tax on brokers' memoranda. Mr. Wilson spoke at some length, urging that as the war had ceased the act designed to raise war revenue should be repealed. The license tax on brokers was unfust, he said, a similar tax was not levied on any other business.

He pointed out the burdens specially Exchange, the same burdens applying to the whole section of the community engaged in the purchase and sale, public and private, of corporate stock and the public sale of agricultural products.

The burden on this class, he said, was wholly disproportionate to those engaged in other lines of business, and was twofold, first, a ticense tax on the business, which was an unnecessary discrimination against those engaged in a legitimate busi-ness, and, second, an oppressive tax upon each transaction, amounting to 2 cents on each $100 transfer.

While this seemed at first a slight burden, Mr. Wilson said the aggregate was so great as to make it a grievous impost, the clearances of the consolidated exchange amounting last year to 77,752,220 shares, with sales of 176,621,135 shares. The tax upon the business done by the members of these and other exchanges was estimated by Mr. Wilson at $5,000,000.

Mr. DeAguero followed with a few remarks urging that the tax be removed from the memoranda, as it was so hampering trade as to make the business of brokers unprofitable.

Mr. Grosvenor suggested that those deal-added Mr. Grosvenor.

Representative Levy spoke on the danger of permitting the revenue accumulation to continue during the summer, saying it would cause a withdrawal of money from business and a financial stringency in the fall. He said he believed the Secretary of the Treasury wanted the revenues reduced, and had so advised the

Mr. Jacobus said the tax in proportion Mr. Jacobus said the tax in proportion to the values was excessive. When stocks were high, as they were last year, it was bad enough, and as the values shrunk the tax grew heavier and heavier until soon it would be unbearable, and business would come to a stop. Mr. Wagar said that he had practically been driven out of business by the tax. The brokers' profits in grain he said were very small. He in grain, he said, were very small. He was a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, and of the Consolidated Stock Exchange. When buying 19,000 bushels of grain in New York for a customer it was his custom to sell the same amount in Chicago and vice versa. With the tax, $7.50 on each transaction, it are up all his profits and he was substantially compelled in the House. The House, in Committee of the Whole, spent the greater part of yesterday's seaelon in consideration of the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. Half of the afternoon was spent in the controversy between tions and the Committee on Naval Affairs, as to whether the ocean and foreign surveys should be made by the Coast and Geedetic Survey or the Navy Department. Mr. Dayton continued in opposition to several provisions relating to the Coast and Geodetic Survey, succeeding in keeping out of the bill an item of $20,000 for the purchase of a small vessel. He made a point of order against the paragraph appropriating $182,745 for the payment of ships' officers and crews necessary in the survey, on the ground that it was a change of law.

Mr. Cannon argued that inasmuch as the President had failed for two years to de-tail naval officers and seamen, in accord-ance with the law catabilishing the Coast and Geodetic Survey, if the paragraph was not adopted the hydrographic work of the survey must stop. After debate on the point of order Chairman Dalzell sustained the point of order on the ground

Some time was spent on a provision in the bill authorizing the purchase of 140 acres of land adjeining the Government Hospital for the lusane at a cost of $210,000. Without disposing of the matter the committee rose, having disposed of 122 pages of the bill, and at 6:10 o'clock the House adjourned until today.

SHUTS OFF COMPETITION

Bill for Civilian Musicians' Benefit Favorably Reported.

The House Committee on Labor Favors Legislation Prohibiting Army and Navy Bands From Bidding Against Civic Organizations-Question of Justice and Fairness.

The Committee on Labor of the House favorably reported yesterday a bill which prohibits the competition of Army and Navy bands with civilian bands. The report follows:

"The legislation herein proposed has for its object the protection of civilian musicians against the competition of enlisted men. Its enactment is demanded by every consideration of justice and fairness in behalf of those citizens and taxpayers who are dependent upon their profession as musicians for the support of themselves and families. Under existing conditions the members of Army and Navy bands are allowed to freely compete with civilian musicians and with private bands in the matter of securing engagements and con-tracts to furnish music for all occasions. They are under the pay of the Government; their subsistence is provided for by the Government, their uniforms and in-struments and all the necessary sheet music and other paraphernalia are paid for out of the national Treasury, all of which affords them a considerable advan-tage and easily enables them to underbid the citizen musicians on all occasions where music is to be furnished under con-tract. The chances of the latter for em-ployment and to earn means for their support are thereby correspondingly reduced.

"Localities in which no military hands are located are, of course, not affected either by this competition or the proposed remedy, but the extent of that competi-tion, wherever it exists, may be measured by the fact that engagements to furnish music are made under contract and just as invariably awarded to the lowest bidder, which, under the unequal con-citions above described, is usually the relitary band. But even if the figures of the civilian band were not higher, experience teaches that preference is usually being given to the military band because it is looked upon as a special attraction. This is due to a strong prejudice on the part of many people in favor of military organizations, and the present system nurtures this prejudice, thus indirectly promoting what both parties abhor, the spirit of militarism.

"Simple justice demands that a citizen "Simple justice demands that a citizen musician, as a citizen, is entitled to the same consideration as men of any other trade or vocation. The Government does not allow soldiers to compete with citizens as bakers, bricklayers, masons, blacksmiths, doctors, or lawyers, and it does not dream of ordering out the artisans of any particular craft in case of labor trou-bles to take the place of ordinary workmen, and the same measure of protection against Covernment competition should be extended to civilian musicians. "This resolution, if passed, will in no wise interfere with regimental bands furnishing music at official occasions or social functions at the Executive Mansion or other places where their services may be required by the President or other officials of the Government, nor will the inhibition extend to any free concerts given by Army and Navy bands. The committee is, on they are receiving, which pay should be sufficiently increased to render unnecesat $1,000, in default of which Coleman was committed to jail.

Previous to being arraigned, Coleman was again photographed for the rogues' gallery, the picture taken Wednesday not being deemed satisfactory.
